This Fall the Center for Maximum Potential Building Systems will honor our 35th Anniversary with an evening of food, music, and celebration. Your sponsorship will support the Center's ongoing role as a catalyst and proving ground for transformative and forward-thinking solutions towards a sustainable world. Please join us on the evening of Friday, November 5, 2010 at CMPBS in Austin, Texas. Our long-time collaborators David Lake of LakelFlato Architects, Lucia Athens, the City of Austin's first Chief Sustainability Officer, and Dawn Danby, Autodesk's Sustainable Design Program Manager, will join us to welcome you.

Since 1975, in collaboration with a remarkable network of associates, the Center has played a pivotal role in shaping a movement through inspiring educational experiences, world-class building demonstrations, and groundbreaking approaches to life cycle design. As green building has taken hold in the mainstream, we are humbled to be the oldest, continuously operating non-profit organization in the US focused on green building, sustainable design and development--and much more. For more information about our projects, visit our website www.cmpbs.org.

Thank you for considering this opportunity to be a part of 35 years of serious commotion with your tax-deductible contribution. Please complete and return the enclosed form or go to our website to place your donation.

We are impressed by the generosity and support of the Center's many friends and associates over our 35-year history. We look forward to celebrating with you in November.

With Very Best Regards,

Pliny Fisk III Gail Vittori
